“From every stone they throw in front of us, we will build a road ” - that is the challenging motto of Isabelle Müller.

"The daughter of the phoenix - Hope is my way" by author Isabelle Müller telling the story of an outstanding woman, carrying in her blood flow in her veins, not allowing herself to be overwhelmed by unhappiness, mastering life and ultimately - despite all ties. forced of fate, becoming a successful businessman in Germany.

By Isabelle Müller

Isabelle Müller is the fifth child of a family with a Vietnamese mother and French father, who grew up in a small village in France in the 1960s. The Isabelle Müller family lives in extreme muscle poverty. Her father was a white person with a racist ideology. Isabelle Müller was fortunate to be raised by Mrs. Loan - the Vietnamese mother who raised her school, inherited the living and courageous power from her mother to move forward, even when life seemed unbearable. .

The story of Isabelle Müller's life in The daughter of the phoenix - Hope is my way promises to give readers hope, positive and brave living energy. The book encourages people to ask questions about conquering their own fears, believing in dreams, being braver in life. Experiencing each page of books, readers will realize: Life is a relentless, non-stop movement process, everything operates of energy spread around.

In the book, Isabelle Müller not only talks about seeking happiness, but also guides readers on how to turn unhappiness into happiness, turning the negative spiral into a positive spiral. All the experience that Isabelle Müller unites in life constitutes her own philosophy of life - the essence of a happy life.

Isabelle Müller shares: "I have been through the bad things in life and am also fortunate to experience many sweet things: true love, warmth, encouragement, empathy, friendship, friendship Above all, I am still living healthy and enjoying this life. I have learned how to analyze every situation in life with a remote view. I recognize the importance of living in resonance and recognizing opposites to find my own center and maintain a healthy balance. The most important thing may be not to focus on negative experiences but to focus on positive experiences. Do not repeat the same mistakes, remember what you have learned, believe in a happy, healthy and lucky future".

Isabelle Müller took her mother's name to set up a private charity on May 9, 2016 called Loan Stiftung. Loan Stiftung focuses on building kindergartens, schools, dormitories as well as providing learning tools and support in the care of children. For nearly 6 years of operation, Loan Stiftung has conducted 35 projects, of which 29 have been completed and handed over, the contribution amounting to 1 million Euro. In addition to supporting poor provinces such as Cao Bang, Ha Giang, Lao Cai, Yen Bai ... Loan Stiftung also implemented a project to help children in need during a historic flood in October 2020 in Ha Tinh - home of Mrs. Loan (mother Isabelle Müller).

In her book, Isabelle Müller has a lot of affection for her Vietnamese mother, she said: "I would not have survived without my mother. I learned from my mother how to seek hope in moments of despair, treating obstacles as challenges to overcome, by the power
