

Eppingen

New elections for pilots

The general meeting of the Eppingen Flying and Model Sports Club was mainly dominated by the new board elections. Accordingly, the number of members in the club had gathered at the reunion hall, especially since some long-standing board members are no longer wanted to run for re-election. That the flying and model sports club Chairman Dr. Jörg Wild made it clear in his welcoming speech and in retrospect that the company has significantly increased its level of recognition, particularly through the successful air shows of recent years.

After the board of directors their good work of the last two years was relieved, nothing stood in the way of new elections. In his confirmation for another two years Jörg Wild was elected as chairman from Heilbronn. Newly elected as Vice Chairman Roland Horn from Eppingen, previously Matthias Kenngott, as cashier Detlef Kroll from Eppingen, previously Armin Schertlen, as secretary Michael Maisch, previously Andreas Eger, and as press officer Christian Banghard from Mannheim, previously Florian Hotzy. To the extended board also include youth leader Reiner Lang from Gemmingen, the groundskeeper Ewald Hörner from Heilbronn-Kirchhausen and as festival manager Jürgen Bernhard from Mühlbach. Ernst Rapp from Eppingen and Hermann Stumpf from Mühlbach were Auditors confirmed in office. fms

Reading in the city center

The visitors were attentive by the author Isabelle Müller, who is in the bookstore Holl and Knoll from their book "Phoenix daughter - hope was my leg" aloud. It passes Currently there is hardly a day when cases of abuse are being discussed in the media. How to Isabelle Müller describes in her autobiography that she survived abuse. "My father can be compared to the incest offender Fritzl from Austria," said the 45-year-old, around her nine-year Abuse of eight to 17 years remained undiscovered. Her father had doorbells were installed in the buildings and so they always knew who was House. "Success means getting up one more time than you fall down," says Isabelle Müller, who today lives near Pforzheim, her mother's wisdom. Had she confessed to her mother the abuse by her father, she would have had to live with the burden, her mother sent to prison Because the mother would have killed her father, the Author is sure. Isabelle Müller has long forgiven her father. "As long as you have hope, you have Goals," Isabelle Müller explained to the Listeners. That's how she survived. les

Josef Semek is elected

The Catholic Parish Council is entering the new period with six new parish council members. The committee consists of Edith App, Barbara Baumann, Katja Frey, Brigitte Friederich-Ziegenbein, Xander Gebhard, Karl-Heinz Gräßle, Otto Held, Andreas Probst, Kerstin Renz, Doris Schühle, Josef Semek, Theresia Winkler, and Elisabeth Rickert-Carola. In addition, Dean Bernhard Knobelspies, Pastor Benedikt Labisch and the community representative Ulrike Weith. At the constitutive meeting, Josef Semek elected as chairman. Karl-Heinz Gräßle is on the side as Deputy and assessors Otto Held and Elisabeth Rickert-Carola. The Board of Trustees consists of the chairman Dean Bernhard Knobelspies and the deputy Josef Semek and the assessors Karl-Heinz Gräßle, Brigitte Friederich-Ziegenbein, Andreas Probst and Otto Held. The minutes are taken by Kerstin Renz and Elisabeth Rickert-Carola. The task of the controller, who at meetings Andreas Probst has again checked compliance with the regulations In the joint Committee of the Pastoral Unit The Eppingen parish council with Katja Frey, Karl-Heinz Gräßle, Barbara Baumann and Xander

Leading the fortunes of the Eppingen Flying and Model Sports Club (from left): Roland Knoll to the fire brigade: fourth-graders from the Burgbergschule Richen wat Horn, Christian Banghard, Dr. Jörg Wild, Detlef Kroll, and Michael Maisch. Photo: private

Gebhard will be represented. Brigitte Friederich-Ziegenbein was elected as representative at the social center. Andreas Probst is the representative at the Vincentiusverein, and Barbara Baumann and Josef Semek represent the parish council in the Association for the Promotion of the Museum of Evidence of Religious Folk Belief. The following committees were formed: Liturgy/Pastoral, Ecumenical ACK, Seniors/Women, Visitors Service, Educational center/library, kindergarten, little people church service, Family Circle/Youth, Building Committee, Events/Festivals, and Church Renovation. Parishioners also belong to the committees.

Students visit Wehr

With 21 students, the fourth Class of the Burgbergschule Richen with class teacher Carmen Leyrer the Richen fire department. Primary school pupils were shown the fire station and the fire engine by group leader and youth group leader Gerald Strouhal and youth worker Manuel Echtenacher. Many Questions were asked to the primary school students answered. The tasks of the fire brigade were explained, how fires can be prevented and which accidents in the home can happen. Likewise, the fire brigade equipment, the Alarming and correct behavior in the event of fires are a topic. This visit has had an impact on some children

Isabelle Müller reads from her book "Phoenix Daughter" in Eppingen. Photo: private aroused great interest in to join the youth fire brigade and once a firefighter himself to become. bur

Off to Baden-Baden

Culture, nature and more: This meets for Baden-Baden, the Rural women on a day trip. The location of the place, the well-kept pedestrian zone, the flair of the casino, all this gives the impression from a city inhabited only by millionaires and the rich. This is This is certainly no longer the case today. Spa town, in which in 2006 114 millionaires lived, is a new Poverty has moved in. In this very There were even soup kitchens this year. But the visitor doesn't see that. He enjoys the blooming Parks, along the elegant streets and shops. For the Eppinger Land-

Off to the fire brigade: fourth-graders from the Burgbergschule Richen wat Rescue workers from the Eppingen district. Photo: private

Culture, nature, and more: This is what the rural women experience on a day trip to Baden-Baden. Among other things, they visit the SWR (Southwest German Broadcasting Corporation). Photo: Elke Schülgen

For women, it was primarily the experience Frank Elstner. Through the Südwestrundfunk (SWR). The The broadcasting facility was visited under expert guidance. The prop rooms were impressive, albeit sobering, because many things looked more primitive and modest than expected. The shows and their sets live from the illusion, the acting skills of the actors and the camera work. The broadcasters are financed by broadcasting fees and advertising revenue. The success of a program is determined by the ratings. If a series audience, it will After the group of visitors had enjoyed Baden-Baden and its attractions, they found in the studio in the Altes E-Werk, to record a program of "People of the Week" with

The public platform was quite intimate with its bistro tables. Frank Elstne seemed absolutely unpretentious and presented the individual guests professionally, as expected. Whether it the interview with the magician, the Airplane captain or the expert for volcanic eruptions or the experiences of the cycle tourist, an extreme sportsman or the family that had reduced its weight by half through radical weight loss: There were contributions from unusual people with extraordinary experiences - a captivating Show. The participants were impressed. To be there was a experience. It was deepened by you can watch the broadcast on the third television channel. Conclusion: It was like being in the studio. hn

Gemmingen

Visit to the blood bank

The DRK local association Gemmingen went to the blood bank in Baden-Baden to check the route of the donated In a one-and-a-half-hour guided tour,

Dr. Susanne Seyboth the various areas of the Institute for Transfusion Medicine and Immunohematology. The tour began with a short film in which the The components of blood were explained in more detail. the Gemmingen Red Cross Group through the building of the DRK Blood Donation Service Baden-Württemberg-Hessen and followed Blood control and blood preparation at various stations

With state-of-art machines the blood was broken down into its components separated and tested for usability. Finally, the group examined the finished blood units, which were stored in refrigerated cabinets and waiting to be to be taken to hospitals and used. sib

Informed about the school

Ingo SPD state parliament members Rust attended a ninth Class at the Wolf-von-Gemmingen School and designed with the class two lessons. The first The last hour was devoted to theory. After the presentation and the Introduction to the work of the state parliament was given in a relaxed atmosphere

Many questions were clarified. How does the state parliament function? What is the daily routine of a state parliament member? And how much does also reported how he, as student representative of the Ilsfeld secondary school Politics came. Equal educational opportunities for all were already his main motivation when he as a student against the increase of fees for school transport. Afterwards, Ingo Rust with headmaster Helmut Thomaier and mayor Timo Wolf and informed himself about the situation of the school. The Member of Parliament is impressed by the school's work, who are familiar with their professional profile positioned itself excellently. red

Bad Rappenau

Parish councils meet

In the pastoral unit Bad Rappenau the parish councils to the constituent meetings together. The results look as follows. In Siegelbach: Parish Council Chairwoman Ottilie Steil (Siegelbach), deputy Parish council chairwoman Nicole Lawin (Hüffenhardt), secretary Angelika Müller (Siegelbach), foundation board members Ottilie Steil, Maria-Magdalena Dietz and Thorsten Waberschek. In Bad Rappenau: Parish council chairman Bernhard Ganter, Deputy Parish Council Chairman Karl-Ludwig Haug, Secretary Manuela Rheindt, Board members Bernhard Ganter, Anna Gailing, Karl-Ludwig Haug, Martin Lang and Rudolf Zimmerman. In Heinsheim: Parish council chairwoman Karin Osterberger, Deputy Parish Council Chairman and Secretary Adalbert Schmezer, Board of Trustees Karin Osterberger, Rita Baumgar and Markus Joos .

Students in exhibition

The first-graders were very interested and eager to share from Babstadt and Treschklingen matter when she was introduced to the multifaceted art exhibition "Dazwischen" in the moated castle. Afterwards they learned not only know a real artist, but also let their own artistic flair when designing free rein. The All just by visiting the playground in the city center to Conclusion - and that with the most beautiful Spring weather. This is how school would double the fun. gsb

Kirchardt

Promoting reading in practice

In the broadest sense, reading promotion aims to familiarize children with books, to support them in finding access to the world of reading, and to awaken or maintain enthusiasm for reading. Towards the general

Visits to the library are an essential part of the goal of promoting enthusiasm for reading and reading books.

Again the second and third grades of the Birkenbach school with their teachers Katrin roche and Ines Dischinger in the Library opened. This is how the Thema books that are used in class had been treated extensively, rounded off by a visit to the library. Since the simultaneous visit of all students would have exceeded the spatial capacity of the facility, visited the classes one after the other the library. Initially, presented the children with the facts about the library. Most of them know the library already, some already as a reader. However, there are also Children who have never joined the ranks of have browsed the shelves. This is for the Kirchardter a special

An incentive to make the library visit interesting so that the children and their parents will be happy to come back. After all, the Way to the beloved books and other media such as CDs, games, Magazines and CD-ROMs should be as short as possible.

During the tour, the children a first overview about the library and its various sections. Every child was allowed borrow their very own favorite book using their class ID card. Afterwards, everyone had plenty of time to browse through the books at their leisure .

Spring trip: The class of 1944/1945 is traveling in Hohenlohe. In Öhringen, the group explores the town. She visits the museum and takes a covered wagon ride to a horse farm. Photo: private born 1944/45

The class of 1944/45 and the former co-confirmants drove by bus to Schwaigern and from there by tram to Öhringen. After a city tour and museum visit we went with by horse-drawn wagon to Hans-Dieter Jäger's riding stables in Untersölbach. A hearty lunch was served in his vaulted cellar. Coffee and cake. In between The group was supported by the stately chen riding stable. At the A wine tasting, which was held professionally by a winegrower, created a good atmosphere. The former Teacher Klaus Voigt, like all from the group very much. It everything was just right. hunt