

news from plochingen

CVJM Plochingen

e yes Mb

On Friday, March 23, the annual general meeting of the CVJM Plochingen in the Protestant community center. The club currently has 408 members and almost 200 children and youth members.

Focus areas and actions in 2011, the staff day with a visit to the airport, "CVJM bewegt" at the Bruckenwasenfest with human table football, game stations, field games, information stand and musical entertainment by a brass group of the trombone choir, the trombone choir's family leisure time in Isny, the French fries stand and Children's face painting at the Marquardt Festival. Other activities were the open-air cinema and the annual summer festival on the CVJM-Plätzle together with the Protestant church congregation, the trombone choir Concert tour for the 30th anniversary

Kurt Klöpfer, Inge Nussbaum, Frank Schilling, Roland Greiner and Stefan Heilemann (from left). Photo: e

Existence of friendship with Oroszlány, the church concert of the trombone choir, the annual Young brass players training in Michelbach, a thank you meal for the new badminton group, and

Employees, which was organized by the Protestant church community, a ski day, as well as the annual recycling collections, the Christmas tree campaign, and the orange campaign. Board elections confirmed the previous board: Stefan Heilemann serves as chair, Sabine Nussbaum as second chairwoman, Karl Fuchs as cashier, Daniela Niebauer as Secretary and Matthias Pflumm as assessor. The group reports referred to the smallest athletes, the two Children's gymnastics groups, the various handball children and youth groups, the newly founded

The conclusion was an interesting insight into the work of the youth music group. Stefan Heilemann presented the plans for Establishment of a CVJM youth foundation, called "Foundation for Promotion of youth, trombone and sports work within of the CVJM Plochingen eV - A Foundation for Donors". For over 30 years of volunteer Collaboration at the CVJM Plochingen Inge Nussbaum, Frank Schilling, Roland Greiner and Thomas Nussbaum was honored with the silver badge of honor of the Evangelical Youth Work of Württemberg. The detailed Minutes of this Annual General Meeting can soon be obtained from can be downloaded from the CVJM homepage.

Plochingen City Library

Bdkd I

"We had tears in our eyes," reported two women from Plochingen after the reading of Isabelle Müller from her Autobiography "Phoenix Daughter" in the Plochingen City Library. The lecture by the petite bestselling author in cooperation with the Esslingen Adult Education Center and the City Library had deeply touched the audience, for which they with great applause. "The was a very moving story with a positive message," said Esslingen's VHS director Susanne

Deß at the end: "It is a very captivating book," said library employee Petra Schultz the reading at the beginning announced. She was right, because on the faces of the listeners reflected deep sympathy and compassion for the nine-year sexual abuse that Isabelle Müller suffered in of her childhood and her path out of it. "Today I can talk openly about it," the author explained. On May 4th there will be a panel discussion will take place in cooperation with the Feuervogel association, a behavioral therapist, and representatives from politics and the judiciary, with at least 300 visitors expected. The question will be answers how to recognize, feel, see and hear could be abused by someone Müller explained: "One must put oneself in the shoes of both the victims and the perpetrators," explained the Writer, like the topics sexual abuse and prevention will be discussed. her visit to Frank Elstner's TV show "People of the Week" has already moved an audience of millions. Many Visitors also knew them from her appearance in the Landesschau last year. In Following the reading, the author signed numerous books and took the time for Conversations with her fans.

Adult Education Center director Susanne Deß, author Isabelle Müller, and Ploching library employee Petra Schultz (from left). Photo: e

Good mood in the broom

On March 27, the senior group 60 +/- X Plochingen, with a total of 59 people, traveled by S-Bahn to Endersbach. From there, the hiking group went to Beutelsbach, the other group The bus took them directly to the Besen. They stopped at the Dobler winery, where the larger group was allowed to stay in the rustic cellar. The hours passed with their own wine and the famous hearty Besen dishes. A spontaneously formed singing trio provided the finale. A few more songs were performed. In the late afternoon, everyone returned to Plochingen in good spirits and with excellent weather. Photo: e

Committed to a clean city

The youth of the music club Stadtkapelle Plochingen also took part in the District clean-up of the Plochingen Associations Working Group and provided in the Dettinger Cultural Park for Cleanliness. Representatives of the Plochingen Harmonica Friends were also present in the city center. and the Stumpenhofer tower witches and devils are on the same mission. The windows in the Winkelbau received a spring cleaning. Thanks go to members Elisabeth Espig and the Ruth and Ann Noisternig families. The event concluded with a hearty snack in the courtyard of the Dettinger Cultural Park. Photo: e