Readers have known Isabelle Müller through the work Hip Hop in the country of Ellsaby filled with hope with the original desire to comfort the sad mood of a child when losing a loved one. The work is written and illustrated by the author himself with a waxy pen drawing, creating characters that are soulful, lively and close to children.

Share about Hip Hop in the country of Ellsaby, Isabelle Müller expressed the message of optimism through the work: "The fear of the finality of life is probably the greatest fear, death is also part of life. And even if you sometimes have reason to despair, never lose hope, because black is only black if you want to see it as black ”.

Serial Hip Hop in the country of Ellsaby, recently, works Hip Hop and golden forest Isabelle Müller's was issued by TP.HCM General Publishing for the purpose of raising children's awareness of the world. In this work, the story line is lovingly told by Isabelle Müller and the beautiful illustration by Daniel Gaucher. The book prints three languages in Vietnamese-English-German.

By returning to Earth after death, Little Leaf (Small Leaf) is revived. Life is full of mysteries and challenges that can be solved and solved with education and curiosity. When Hip Hop and Little Leaf discovered butterflies, they learned something new that butterflies could disguise and go away. Butterflies also symbolize the soul and the resurrection.

When Hip Hop met the wild dog, the topic “loneliness ” was mentioned. This dog is so lonely that he forgets his own name. Topics of friendship and cohesion are also discussed in the work. Hip Hop is very sensitive and sympathetic, cares about people around him and looks for solutions. Listening and helping are good qualities in life that children can learn through Hip Hop and golden forest.

With this next work for children, the message from Hip Hop and golden forest transmitted, that humans and plants and animals on Earth are small compared to the vast nature. We ourselves are part of the natural world. Therefore, we should treat nature with gratitude, care and respect, love and treat them the same way we love and treat ourselves.

The entire royalty sale amount of Hip Hop and golden forest will be donated to the LOAN Stiftung Foundation founded by the author himself to help poor, disadvantaged children in the northern mountainous provinces of Vietnam.

Isabelle Müller has a Vietnamese mother and a French father. She is the author Daughter of the Phoenix bird - Hope is my way write about your life with the message against sexual abuse, and LOAN - From the life of a Phoenix bird, writing about the life of her mother, the Vietnamese woman who rose from the quagmire of prejudice as well as the discrimination of skin color in France. She is also the founder of the LOAN Stiftung Charity Foundation, which specializes in educational projects for ethnic minority children in the mountains of Vietnam.
