Bestselling author Isabelle Müller with the rural women in Nabern

„Phoenix daughter “ as a guest

The country women from Nabern, Bissingen and Ochsenwang enthusiastically listened to the bestselling author Isabelle Müller at their reading from their autobiography „Phönix daughter “ in the citizens' hall of the Naberner town hall.

Kirchheim. „Today is one of my last readings from Phoenix's daughter “, reported the petite writer. Because this year she wants to push her new book „Loan from the life of a phoenix “, which is dedicated to her beloved Vietnamese mother Mè Loan, at full steam and win the right publisher for it.

„The rural women are always very warm “, Isabelle Müller was happy. After a hearty, extensive breakfast, she took the women into the world of their autobiography and took them on a journey through their eventful life from France to Kazakhstan to Vietnam.

Compassion and dismay stood on the faces when the author described her sexual abuse by her own father and how she survived her two suicide attempts.

Chair Renate Gölz thanked the author for her exciting and lively lecture with a colorful bouquet of homemade pasta.

Since the publication of her autobiography, the writer, known from radio and television, has performed almost 150 times throughout Germany. Last year she was recognized by Federal President Joachim Gauck for her commitment to also conduct numerous panel discussions against sexual abuse, was a guest at the State Show and with Frank Elstner on the program „People of the Week “. After the reading, the listeners received a personal dedication from the author.pm
